COME AND SEE US.

HEADQUARTERS REP. STATE CENTRAL COMM., 1 MILWAUKEE, JUNE 12, 1884.

The Republican State Central Committee has opened convenient and comfortable headquarters Wisconsin street, near the postoffice, in Milwaukee. All Republicans, and especially those of our own state, are cordially invited to call when in the city. All republican papers published in the state, and many of the leading journals of the country, will be kept on file. Come and see us.

H. A. TAYLOR, Chm.

C. PARKS, Secy.

The democrats wish they could have success in this campaign.

Whenever the democrats engage in politics, they make a failure of the business.

The democrats are finding some comfort in the report that Blaine is not running very well in Canada.

For the earnest work the democratic party is doing to elect Mr. Blaine, the republicans everywhere are profoundly grateful.

It is noticeable that the democratic leaders do not lead in this campaign. Their silence is absolutely oppressive to the party.

No sooner had the democrats thought they had the tariff stumbling block out of the way, than the Rev. Mr. Ball, came to torment them.

It is doubtful if $100 a night will prove a fitting compensation to Mr. Schurz for having his conscience squeezed in making democratic speeches.

The democrat's started out in this campaign to make it aggressive. They have got all the aggression they want, and now they want the republicans to call off the dogs.

The prayer of the democrat managers: From Horatio O. King, Henry Ward Beecher, and all the independents, Good Lord deliver us.

Mrs. Livermore has come out for Blaine. The democrats may laugh at this, but May, if she can't vote for herself, can get a hundred others to vote right.

If Mr. Cleveland won't decline, then the better way would be to postpone his letter until after the election. This would give him an excellent opportunity to review the situation according to the facts.

When the independent, who support Cleveland, met in New York, July 22, they said in their address: "The paramount issue of the presidential campaign is moral rather than political." Now their address is: "The paramount issue in this campaign is political rather than moral."

Mr. Cleveland should not forget that he owes it to the country for decency's sake, to put a stop to the attacks against his character, by having some of the papers indicted. If there is no truth in the reports, it is an easy matter to end those who libel his character.

One of the peculiarities of the campaign is the great interest the democrats have so suddenly lost in Blaine's letter of acceptance. They haven't said a word about it for two weeks. The Buffalo oligarchs seem to have lost their lightning rods in attracting the attention of the democrats.

"Brick" Pomeroy, who for several years past has been engaged in newspaper and mining business at Dever, announces his intention of returning to New York city. He has issued a prospectus in which he says that early in this month he will issue from New York city The United States Democrat, an illustrated weekly paper, which will support what he terms "the democratic independent ticket, headed by Cleveland and Hendricks." Cleveland and Hendricks and "Brick" Pomeroy, will go out of business about the same time.

The canvass is intended to be an active and aggressive one. The peculiarity of the campaign in this state and city is that everything adverse to us is on the surface, while a great deal that is hidden and has not yet been revealed is in our favor.

The above is from the chairman of the democratic executive committee of New York. It shows what is thought of the campaign in that state. To all appearances, the battle is against the democrats in New York, as it is in all other northern states; and the further the democrats dive below the surface, the worse their chances appear.

The twenty-seventh annual convention of the Wisconsin Editors' and Publishers' association will be held in Milwaukee Aug. 19-21, at the Grand Opera House. The convention will be devoted to business and literary purposes, and the customary excursion will not be held. The annual address will be delivered by John Symes, of Milwaukee, formerly editor of the La Crosse Democrat. The poem will be read by Mrs. Helen Holmes Charlton, assistant editor of the Broadhead Independent. Gen. George C. Gandy will read an obituary tribute to the late Maj. Lu. H. Diury, and Gen-

David Atwood will perform the same service for the late Hon. James Ross.

THE TWO RECORDS.

The Pillars of the Universe Tremble for a Moment.

A Portion of Uncle Sam's Dominion Has a Rather Unpleasant Shake.

The Earthquake Causes a Panic in Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania and Maryland—Fifteen Seconds of Rumbling and Trembling.

New York, Aug. 11.—A few minutes past 2 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, the city was visited by a genuine shock of earthquake, which lasted fully fifteen seconds. In many parts of the city the shock created great excitement, and in the tenement districts people ran from their house fire-trap. In the hotels and high flats there was also great excitement, and many of the inmates, believing that the buildings were about to fall, ran into the street. In several up-town business rooms, glassware was shaken from shelves and broken. In the Italian colony of Nozze and Crosby streets, a large number of persons fled from their houses. The police central building in Mulberry street was shaken from foundation to roof and several persons left the building through fear. The shock was very perceptible on the Brooklyn bridge.

Delaware Not Neglected.

WILMINGTON, Del., Aug. 11.—The shock of an earthquake was distinctly felt in this city about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, but those who noticed it, say it lasted but a second, resulting in a slight tremor of the earth, or rattling of window sash.

Dispatches to the signal office show that the shocks were felt with the greatest severity on Long Island.

BURN HAIR COAL, SOFT COAL OR WOOD. Have been THOROUGHLY TESTED, and their practicability IS FULLY ENDORSED. Read what is said about them:

Janesville, Wis., Feb. 19, 1881.

Badger Stove Company, Janesville. After giving the Badger Range a fair trial, it affords me great pleasure in saying that the to it has been in every respect most satisfactory. I find in it all I claim for it, mainly: the most perfect and safe cookstove which it can be constructed, and I can say of any one of ordinary intelligence to make it a complete success. For baking purposes it is first-class.

The amount of heat given off is equal to that of a good wood-burning stove, and it is far more thrifty than the latter. In the morning we get our breakfast by the same fire, without any addition of coal or delay in kindling. In conclusion, permit me to say that if I could not get a badger I would not part with my range for twice the amount of the purchase price.

Yours truly,

N. DEARBORN.
Janesville, Wis., March 7, 1881.

Badger Stove Company, Janesville. Gentlemen: Having a desire to procure a cooking stove that would work with the least possible trouble, I have called upon a number of companies to furnish me with samples, and have had the pleasure of examining the goods of the Badger Stove, and have found it run it several days with the greatest success, and that my first experience in using coal for cooking purposes. It is quick in its action with either coal or wood, heating evenly all four griddles, with no lack of heating reservoir speedily. The baking is beyond question second to no fire I have ever seen in a kitchen.
